HOW TO READ THE PROGRAM:

Reading the Past Performance charts isn't nearly as difficult as it looks and understanding it may very well give you an edge over the other fans you're betting against. (Remember: it's the bettors, not "the track," you're matching your wits and money against.)

The charts are simply shorthand for how a greyhound ran his or her last 10 races, plus some pertinent information about the dog. For example, let's take a look at Kid Creole:

The (72) to the right of his name is his established racing weight. If you see a "WL" (for "weight-loser") next to his name, it indicates the greyhound has lost in excess of 2 lbs, at least twice while in the lockout kennel. To the right, you see his record at Wonderland (out of 28 starts, he had 19 firsts, 3 seconds, 4 thirds, and 0 fourths); and under that, his record at a previous track or last year's record at Wonderland (if "WO"). Farther right: the greyhound's kennel, trainer and owner. Under the greyhound's name is his color, sex ("M" for male, "F" for female), whelping (birth) date, Sire (father) and Dam (mother).

Under all that is a record of how he ran his last 10 races:

HOW THE GREYHOUNDS RAN:

For the sake of illustration let's look at Kid Creole's performance on the top line which was the 11th race at Wonderland on May 20. It was a 5/16ths-mile race and the track was fast (F). Kid Creole won it in 30.50 seconds. Kid Creole weighed 71-pounds. He broke sixth from the seven-box and was running fourth after an eighth of a mile (off). Second at the stretch call, Kid Creole won by 1 1/2-lengths. Kid Creole's odds were 4.30, meaning he paid $10.60 to win on a $2.00 wager ($8.60 plus the return of the $2.00 bet).

To the right of the odds we see that this was a grade S (stakes) race.

A greyhound moves up in grade from (D), (C), (B), (A), (AA) every time it wins a race. Grade AA, A, B, and C greyhounds drop a grade failing to finish first, second or third in three consecutive starts or failing to earn more than one-third in four consecutive starts. Maiden greyhounds go from J to C and follow normal grading except dropping from C to J. See grading rules for (AA), (J) and (M).
